Nottingham Community and Voluntary Service (NCVS) is here to help. We're a local infrastructure organisation, aiming to improve the quality of people's lives in Nottingham by strengthening the voluntary, community and social enterprise (VCSE) sector.

One of our key objectives is to improve the quality of volunteering and breadth of volunteering opportunities across the city.

If you involve volunteers, we have resources to assist you with:

Talk to others in similar roles:

Take part in our Leaders of Volunteers Network (LoVN) which meets quarterly.

The network provides a friendly, informal space for anyone who recruits, manages, co-ordinates, or otherwise leads volunteers, to meet, share ideas and make new connections.

Add your organisation's volunteer opportunities to our website:

We make it easy for potential volunteers to learn about your organisation. At no charge to you.

We advertise hundreds of local volunteer opportunities through our searchable online database, so we get a lot of visitors. Our automated email system sends expressions of interest from people you may not reach elsewhere, increasing the likelihood of your roles being filled.

Talk to us about how we can best help your organisation. We'll upload details for you, or you can manage and update your own opportunities on our website with a free Leader of Volunteers account.

We run regular training sessions to help Leaders of Volunteers develop their skills and ensure that they're up to date with the latest volunteering guidelines and best practice advice.

Our training covers a range of volunteer management issues, covering the essentials, plus in-depth topics, e.g. addressing barriers that potential volunteers face, dealing with conflict in your volunteer team, and writing opportunities to attract new volunteers.
